Wheat Acreage Nears Normal

Figures on Wheat Crop of Randall County Are Compiled by Upchurch

The 1946 wheat crop of Randall county turned out to be almost an average crop in spite of the lack of effective rains from the end of January to harvest time.

A tabulation of reports for about one-half the farms in the county indicate a yield of about 9½ bushels per acre for the acreage harvested. The seeded acreage yield was about 8½ bushels. The abandonment of acreage, that is acreage seeded and not harvested, was the greatest in recent years. About 12% of the seeded acreage was not harvested for various reasons. This includes some acreage seeded for pasture and not intended for harvest.

The County Agent's office is attempting to determine the average increase in yield due to summer fallowing the land the year before wheat is seeded.

This is the first year that any county wide survey, to determine the value of summer fallow has been attempted. Results so far indicate that the difference in the "Seeded acre" yield of the summer fallow fields will be about 5 bushels more than the over all average yield or about 6 bushels per acre more than the yield on fields cropped every year.

It is evident from the reports so far received that the better methods of summer fallowing have paid off in most of the farms this year.

The County Agent and the County Committee of the Agricultural Conservation Association hope to continue the collection of data on wheat production in order to evaluate some of the practices recommended under the conservation program.

Officers Protest Action of M. Ps. Against Student

A protest has been filed with the Military Police at the Amarillo Army Air Field by Sheriff M. E. Cantrell and Sheriff Bill Adams of Potter County. The officers demanded an explanation on the part of two M. P. non-commissioned officers who picked up a boy attending school here this week.

The boy had spent the week-end at his home near Dumas. On his way back to Canyon he was stopped north of Amarillo by two M. P.'s in a jeep who demanded to see his discharge papers. He told the men that he was only 18; was in school and had no discharge papers. He was taken into Amarillo and after being manhandled by this group of M. P.'s, they were convinced the boy was telling the truth. But he was taken back to the spot where he was picked up north of Amarillo and dumped out.

Sheriff Cantrell stated that officers at the field were notified that unless satisfactory explanation was made for the action in picking up a boy over which the military had no control that the case would be taken up with the War Department. Local officers have always given full co-operation with the Military Police when it came to law infraction on the part of soldiers from the field, but are alert to protect the interest of boys over whom the Military Police have no authority.

Convention Is Very Peaceful

County Convention Will Meet Saturday; Committee to Canvass July Returns

In contrast to the hectic conventions of last year, the precinct convention held Saturday was an entirely peaceful gathering.

Precinct Chairman W. A. Warren was unable to remain for the meeting, and Dr. Lee Johnson was elected chairman of the convention.

Three resolutions presented by Evetts Haley were unanimously adopted as follows:

1. Urging legislation to correct the present election laws whereby the State Democratic Committee levies a fee upon all candidates, thereby building up a slush fund to be used for partisan purposes.

2. That without prejudice to the colored race with whom we have lived so long in harmony, that we deplore the attacks on the principle of segregation of the races, and resent outside political agitation of the racial question as bound to lead to tragic results.

3. That we condemn the federal control of the Democratic primary and the steps by which control of the party has been taken from its membership.

These resolutions will be presented to the County Convention to be held next Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Due to the fact that the delegates will vote as a unit and Precinct No. 1 controls the convention by right of having cast more than half of the votes of the county, these resolutions will be adopted and referred to the State Convention.

The County Executive Committee will meet at 2:00 o'clock to canvass the returns of the July 27 election and to file reports with the County Clerk and the State Committee.

Delegates appointed to the County Convention were: Clyde W. Warwick, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sternberg, John A. Gillis, C. R. Stratton, Dr. Lee Johnson, W. A. Warren, O. D. Bragg, W. S. Amend, Boone McClure, W. C. Black, C. R. Burrow, Mr. and Mrs. J. Evetts Haley, G. G. Foster, John Knight, Mitchell Jones.

Contract Is Let to Continue on Museum Building

A contract has been made with C. S. Lambie for the enclosure of the second unit of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society's Museum on the campus of West Texas State.

The contract is the result of instructions from the entire board of directors for the executive committee to meet in Canyon and go over the project with the contractors. This meeting was held two weeks ago. It was then agreed that a poll of the directors be taken with the view of getting the opinion of the directors as to the next steps. It was found that practically all of the material needed was on hand; that there was no critical material involved which would deprive other buildings of needed materials; that Mr. Lambie could work this project in with his other construction on the campus and thereby save time and money.

A contract has been made with Mr. Lambie, and work will be underway as bricklayers are not needed on other projects on the campus.

H. C. Pipkin, chairman of the Building Fund Committee, has sent out an urgent appeal for funds to carry on this work. He hopes that every county which has not met its quota shall raise as much money as possible and mail it to Dr. L. F. Sheffy, secretary of the association.

USO Drive Will Be Held to Wind Up War Program

In typical style Texans are accepting their responsibility to put the state over the top in the next and final USO drive, Governor Coke R. Stevenson, General Chairman, said today.

Texas' share of the $19,000,000 quota is $600,000. Stevenson added, "We are particularly pleased with the manner in which Texans are accepting the responsibility of leadership in the counties throughout the state. These leaders are providing the backbone of the organization necessary to make this drive a success."

Stevenson pointed out that there are still approximately 125,000 Texans in the service and we certainly cannot overlook our responsibility to them. He said, "We cannot overlook our responsibility to these men who are helping us win the peace. Morale problems in the armed forces are greater now than ever before and I feel that we owe as much to those in uniform now, as those who served during the combat phase of this war."

Col. Carl L. Phinney said, upon accepting his appointment as Campaign Chairman, "I have seen what the USO contributed over here and over there and now I am more than glad to serve in this capacity and help those who are still in uniform." He added, "The continuation of USO through the year 1947 comes about through urgent requests from both the Secretaries of War and Navy and the head of the Veterans' Administration." The program for this final year of operation will be to serve veterans in hospitals, men on occupation duty overseas, and those in training, or in transit, here at home. In keeping with the National USO policy of terminating its services where the need no longer exists, the number in operation has already been reduced from 85 to 26.

At the same time, however, USO is expanding its operations overseas. Since VJ day eleven clubs have been opened in the Philippines; three in China; and seven or eight clubs have been opened in Japan to date.

R. L. Thornton, Jr., said, "USO furnished us the only entertainment we had on Iwo Jima and Saipan and it still furnishes the only entertainment in many remote places where wholesome entertainment is greatly needed." Thornton, a Major in the Air Corps, was in the service four years and served one year overseas in the Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ratjen and Buddy, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Dowlen and family, Mrs. C. N. Dowlen, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Robinson, Lindell, and granddaughter, Marketa, returned from a vacation in New Mexico and Colorado.

Runoff For Commissioner Between Johnston and Heath in August Primary

The vote in Randall county in the first primary election Saturday was not as heavy as had been anticipated. With the qualified number of voters approximately 3,000, only a few more than 2,000 citizens went to the polls.

Randall county followed the lead of Texas in piling up a big lead for Beauford Jester in the race for governor. Rainey was a poor second.

County Clerk A. B. Holt was the only present county official to be defeated in the primary. Thomas H. Lair will be the new clerk starting on January 1.

The only run-off in the county will be in Precinct No. 1 where L. S. Johnston led the ticket for County Commissioner. Commissioner G. B. Heath was second in the race, with W. H. Hamblen going down in third place. It is expected that the race between Johnston and Heath will bring out a big vote in the second primary.

County Judge A. H. Hunt defeated John R. Pool to continue in his present office.

Sheriff M. E. Cantrell led Roland Black in every box in the county, and had the largest lead of any of the contested races.

A proposed write-in campaign against County Chairman Clyde W. Warwick drew little support.

A full report on the vote of Randall county is printed on another page of this issue of The News.

The following is the final tabulation of the Texas Election Bureau on Saturday's primary:

Governor: Beauford Jester 394,719, Caso March 17,420, Homer P. Rainey 251,380, Jerry Sadler 94,025, Grover Sellers 135,285, John Lee Smith, 89,073.

Editorials

Science and higher mathematics are marvelous things when it comes to estimating what might occur. Those who issue election polls apply scientific principles—nothing else. Dr. George Gallup started this national scheme of forecasts years ago. He has a system which hits within 5% of the final results. Belden follows the Gallup plan, and has been quite successful on public questions in Texas. If one of these fail, it means sudden and decisive death to the organization. Therefore, those who run polls must be accurate and honest. Belden missed this year because the turn to Jester, away from Sellers, Sadler and Smith, was much greater than anticipated. Since we have so many polls on so many public questions, why go to the expense and trouble of holding elections? Why not just turn it over to the poll-makers and go about our business.

The second atomic bomb has been exploded in Bikini. While great damage was done, the world was not blown up, and no damage was caused out of the immediate area of the atomic bomb that a lot of tions have been made of the power of the atomic bomb that a lot of people were actually scared of its results. The world is happy to know that so far no power has been discovered, as destructive as this bomb may be, to actually destroy areas outside of the immediate sections where it is used. Maybe we have been unduly alarmed. However, none of us want to be in the approximate area when any of these powerful bombs are used, either in peace or in war.

A modified OPA bill was signed Thursday by President Truman. It seems that rent control is the only feature of the bill which meets with great approval. As a matter of fact, rent control is one of the greatest necessities of OPA. Competition will gradually iron out other existing inequalities in our national economy. Unfortunately there are not enough homes to go around, and it will probably take several years to build the needed homes. When items are scarce there is always the tendency to boost prices to the limit. Rent control may save the situation. But it cannot keep down the present real estate boom, which will bring a lot of headaches in years to come.

Most Texans believe that Beauford Jester will be the next Governor. It is assumed that Rainey cast his full strength in the July primary. With the exception of Jester, all of the candidates were fighting Rainey in the first primary. Jester did not indulge in name calling, or mudslinging. As a result he goes into the second primary free of entanglements with the defeated candidates. It is assumed that Rainey can not muster more than 40% of the votes in the second primary.

This is our birthday! We arrived in Canyon and took charge of the Canyon News 36 years ago. So far as we are concerned, it has been a very short space of time; so far as seniority is concerned, the Newsman is the third oldest business man in Canyon; and the second oldest publisher in the Panhandle. That may or may not be a record of achievement, but we are very proud of it. Thanks, folks, for letting us live so long in Randall county, and work with you good people.

Candidates like to cuss big money, and claim that big money is just about to ruin Texas. But the facts are that no candidate can make a successful state-wide campaign without the support of "big money." It takes thousands of dollars to make such a campaign. A candidate may cuss the moneyed boys out of one side of his mouth, but out of the other side he utters a prayer of thankfulness that there are men who have the dough and are willing to back them in a campaign.

Some outfit in Houston tried to "work" one of our county candidates the last day of the election. A woman said she had important information about the opponent of this candidate. Fortunately the candidate realized that Houston was a far piece away to indulge in local campaigns; and besides candidates for public office in Randall county do not participate in such tactics. Candidates are often taken for a ride by such unreliable persons.

Old J. E. McDonald almost whipped three opponents for Commissioner of Agriculture, in spite of everything that the political dictators could do. The Democratic State Committee used every means at hand to whip McDonald, including the use of a poor soul by the name of "R. E. McDonald" to become a candidate. Sometime folks think that the people are so dumb that the similarity of names will confuse the voters. McDonald has despised the New Deal theory of agriculture. He thinks that the Henry Wallace method will lead agriculture to ruin. He has openly rebelled. He refused to wear the brass collar of the State Committee, and supported the Republican nominee against Roosevelt in all four campaigns. The State Committee, and some local henchmen of this unholy group have been trying to tell the people that the pledge of the Democratic ballot extends to national elections, which is an absolute falsehood. They should now be convinced that they cannot whip or control a man with brains enough to think for himself. Old J. E. will probably win the runoff in spite of all the handicaps he suffers.

"We are told by Washington that there will be no depression after this war, but how are they going to stop it?" asked a very intelligent business man the other day. We have been wondering about this thing. We do not profess to be smart. The present huge national debt must be met; foreign nations are bankrupt, and we shall have to lend them the money for the purpose of buying goods. Just how we can keep this from causing a depression is over our heads. If depression is to be avoided all economic laws that the layman knows anything about will be smashed. As a precaution, the only sane thing to do is proceed with caution, and not let inflationary prices cause you to start on a buying spree of things which you do not need. The fellow who keeps in the clear will be the one who can weather the coming storm—if there is a coming storm.

We wonder just what kind of a heel a congressman feels who is entrusted with grave responsibilities during the war, and is found guilty of plotting to sell our soldiers short? After all a reputation for honesty and fair dealings is the most valued asset in the world. It is greater than silver or gold. And when we vote for men for public office their past reputation for honesty and fair dealings is the greatest asset that they may carry into public service.

It must have been a very disappointed crowd who followed the political fortune of Dr. Rainey. Most Texans thought the the deposed university president would certainly lead in the first primary. His following of CIO, negroes, misguided profs. and his vague promises to revolutionize the state evidently set the people to thinking. And they were not inclined to promote a man who had booted away one good job. Just who wants to hire a failure, one who cannot get along with people? Not the people of Texas.

The News hopes that the State Convention in September will kick the pants off of the present State Democratic Committee and elect sane men and women on that group. At present we have a committee which uses the funds of all candidates to fight some of the candidates; who take half of all national funds raised in Texas to run their own petty organization; and to hire a so-called "educational secretary" for the purpose of inducing Negroes, Mexicans and others to follow the direction of the State Committee.

If the United Nations had realized just how stubborn the Russians could be in peace, they would have demanded more of them during the war. As it is now, it seems that the Russians are trying to block every move which they do not understand, or which may be interpreted as a block against their expansion program. More writers on Russia maintain that the Russian people do not want war, but unfortunately they have nothing to say about peace or war.

OPA and the black market have gone hand in hand. Many people like to defy the federal government when it starts to regulate them. Recall the bootlegging prohibition days? It is very, very unfortunate that the black market thrives in a nation which did so much to win the war. But every person with a peeve against the federal government thinks it is pretty smart to beat the law of the land.

This is the week of alibis. The candidates who did not win can

Many Thanks

I wish to thank the people of Randall county for the many courtesies which have been given to me during the time that I have been privileged to serve you as County and District Clerk. The people of Randall County have been very, very kind to me and to my family, and we are truly grateful to all of you.

I wish to extend congratulations to my successful opponent, Tommy Lair, who is a gentleman and a capable young man. I hope that the people of Randall county will be as kind and considerate to Mr. Lair as they have been to me. If you will help Tommy as you helped me when I started in this office he will make you as good, or better Clerk, than I have been. Stand by him, and give him the benefit of your knowledge.

After January 1 I shall devote my full time to the Randall County Abstract Co. where I shall be found ever ready to assist you with your title problems and other business connected with Abstracts.

Again, I say, many thanks, and the best wishes for health, happiness and prosperity to all people living in Randall County.

Your friend,

A. B. HOLT

think of a dozen things that he should have done in order to make certain that he could have won. Being a defeated candidate is no joke. But don't let it get you down, fellows, politics is an uncertain game. Everyone who makes a political race knows that only one candidate can win. Naturally everyone expects to be the winner.

No longer does hillbilly music charm the voters. Both Sellers and Sadler employed big name hillbilly bands in an effort to charm the voters. Jester and Rainey canvassed the state without bands. It would indicate that the voters are thinking instead of considering frolic on the part of the candidates. And isn't that a relief.

This is one election in which the public will not have to gaze at old worn political posters for weeks and months to come. Owing to the cardboard shortage very few window cards were put up by the state candidates. That may be hard on the big poster printers, but it is sure a relief to the people.

The Apparel Club of New York State says there soon will be plenty of men's silk pajamas at $50 a pair. At that price there's plenty pajamas now.

We wish we could catch up on our worrying about serious matters long enough to spend a few minutes worrying about something trivial.

Another trouble about sitting on top of the world is that you make an excellent target for those desiring to snipe at you.

The first United States mint was established in Philadelphia. It has been in continuous operation since 1793.

Coins originating in the U. S. mint at Philadelphia have no mark that indicates their point of manufacture.

I wish to take this means to say Thanks to my friends who voted for me, and wishing all of you happiness and good fortune.

FARM SAFETY TEST?

If you can't answer "YES" to every question—you are taking chances!
Check up now on your accident-breeding habits—make needed repairs during NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK—

30% of farm accidents last year involved mishandled machinery and equipment. Check these points!

- ☐ Are you careful not to surprise animals when approaching them?

- YES NO
- ☐ Do you avoid handling the bull by providing a safe bull pen?

In farm homes alone, 39% of the fatal accidents are caused by falls. Check these points!

- ☐ Are ladders and steps well built and in good repair?
 - ☐ Are stairways kept clear of boxes, mops, brooms, tools? Are they adequately lighted? Do they have hand-rails?

Unless we're careful, 6,500 farm residents may die in traffic accidents this year. Check these points!

- YES NO
- ☐ Do you keep your car and truck in safe working condition?

- YES NO
- ☐ Do you look both ways before driving onto a main highway?
 - ☐ If you're walking on the highway, do you face oncoming traffic?
 - ☐ Are you always careful in crossing highways?

Farm fires destroyed $90,000,000 worth of property in 1945. Check these points!

- YES NO
- ☐ Do you avoid using kerosene or gasoline to start fires?
 - ☐ Do you regularly inspect and clean all chimneys and stove-pipes?
 - ☐ Do you store fuels and explosives at safe distances from farm buildings?
 - ☐ Do you keep fire fighting equipment handy and in good condition?

DON'T TAKE A CHANCE!

Better safe than sorry! An official public service message prepared by The Advertising Council in cooperation with the National Safety Council and U. S. Department of Agriculture. For further information on farm accident prevention, contact local county agent or agricultural official—or write U. S. Department of Agriculture for free booklet on Farm Safety.

CARELESSNESS CAN KILL YOU!

If drastic action is not taken, 19,500 farm residents will be killed and 1,800,000 more injured in accidents this year. These estimates are based on figures of the National Safety Council. A bad accident—months in bed—the loss of a whole year's crop—may be your fate this year if you are careless. For it is little chances we take... little repairs we neglect to make... that cause accidents. Now during National Farm Safety Week, check your home and farm—do you take the chances listed here? Watch yourself!

Housing Units Are Moved To Campus

Two houses and five barracks which will later be converted into apartments, are the first of the housing units for married veterans that have been moved from Hereford Prisoner of War Camp to West Texas State's campus. The buildings are being placed west of Buffalo Stadium and east of Randall Hall.

Each apartment, some semi-furnished and some unfurnished, will have three rooms—living room with a small dining alcove, bedroom, and kitchen. There will be a bathroom between each two apartments.

The rent will be approximately $25.00 a month with all utilities paid.

Applications for reservations of these housing units are being filed in the Business Office, but veterans and their families who are now living at Hill Courts will have priority on the apartments. A survey is to be taken by the Business Office in order to obtain the exact number of families who wish to move. When this number is determined, the remainder of the apartments will be assigned to those who have applied for them. They will be ready for occupancy by the beginning of the fall session, September 17.

Two dormitories, which will accommodate 160 single ex-service men, are being moved from Cactus Ordnance Plant at Dumas to the campus. There will be two boys to a room and the rent will be $8.00 per person.

We don't see much future for that Minnesota duckling with two left feet. If it weren't for the feathers, however, he might grow up to become a bureaucrat.

"GROWING OLD"

By Robert C. Medaris
They say that I am growing old;
I've heard them tell it times untold
In language plain and bold.
But I'm not growing old;
This frail shell in which I dwell
Is growing old, I know quite well,
But I am not the shell.

What if my hair is turning gray?
"Gray hairs are honorable," they say;

What if my eyesight is growing dim?
I still can see to follow Him
Who sacrificed His life for me
Upon the Cross of Calvary.
Why should I care if Time's old plow
Has left its furrows on my brow?

Then how can I be growing old
When safe within my Saviour's fold?
Ere long this soul shall fly away
And leave this tenement of clay;
"This robe of flesh I'll drop and rise
To seize the everlasting prize";
I'll meet you on the streets of gold
And prove that I'm not growing old.

Washington Newsletter

By Congressman Gene Worley

Late in June Congress passed a Resolution providing for official representatives of that body to participate along with representatives of other nations of the world in ceremonies attending the independence of the Philippine Islands. Pursuant to that Resolution, an official Committee, including myself, was appointed to represent the Congress of the United States.

In the belief the more you and I can know as to what goes on in other parts of the world the more intelligent action we can take, I am preparing a series of weekly reports covering this trip which I hope you as a reader of this newspaper and as an American citizen who has a tremendous stake in our relations with foreign countries will find informative. If these reports appear in your newspaper, it is through the kindness and cooperation of your editor.

I might say in the beginning that while all of the trip was most interesting and informative, the highlights were the Bikini Atomic Bomb explosion, the ceremonies attending the granting of independence to the Philippines, conferences with General Marshall in China, General MacArthur in Japan and other military and State Department officials.

The Committee traveled between twenty and twenty-five thousand miles in a period of two weeks. More time of course would have been desirable but the press of legislative duties in Washington demanded our early return. All of this travel was done by air.

The Congressional Delegation left Washington late on June 25 flying over-night to the West Coast, a distance of approximately 2400 miles. After conferring with State Department and military officials in San Francisco, we left the Coast about ten o'clock the following night by a C-54 plane. From San Francisco to Hickman Field, Honolulu, is approximately 2400 miles, which was made in about twelve hours. Since there were only four bunks aboard the plane and since the House Members felt the Senators were entitled to consideration mainly on account of their age, most of us slept sitting up, on the floor, or anywhere we could. We arrived at Hickman Field the next morning which is the same Field the Japs virtually ripped apart on that black day of December 7, 1941, but today practically all evidence of their attack has disappeared. Again there were conferences with State Department and War and Navy officials and local citizens interested in statehood.

Quite a change had come over the Island since I was stationed there in 1942. At that time, a strict curfew was in order, military law reigned supreme, glass windows were taped with adhesive for fear of breakage from concussion, all Japanese, which represents a considerable portion of the Hawaiian population, were off the streets before dark, no one was allowed on the streets after ten o'clock without a pass, and the blackout was strictly enforced. All of these precautions were taken because an attack and invasion was expected to be launched by the enemy at any time. These expectations were confirmed when the Japanese sent the mightiest naval armada they had ever launched to take Midway, but where they were successfully turned back with heavy losses.

But now the Hawaiian Islands are back to normal and most people there are clamoring for admission as the 49th State of the Union, which proposition is now under consideration in Congress.

Pearl Harbor itself presents quite a different picture from the first time I saw it. At that time our ships were still sunk and desperate efforts were being made to raise them and get them back into operation because they were sorely needed. Just a short distance from the submarine base is a neat and well kept American cemetery where lie the bodies of nearly all men who were killed when the Japs attacked that fateful Sunday.

"But I want one that has never been ill."

Then there was the fellow who changed his name to Biltmore, so it would be the same as his silverware.

We now call it our insomnia suit because it hasn't had a nap for years.

Washington didn't adopt daylight saving time. Not many people there seem interested in saving.

Oh, for life in the tropics—where they have a combination called breadfruit!

UN is now said to be a going concern—and everybody wants to know where?

MM Tractors Are Built for Economy and Dependability

MM Tractors are visionlined for safe, easy and comfortable operation on any farm power job the year around. Visionlining assures better work because the operator can always see what he is doing, and the seat is comfortably low to the rear of the drive wheels for additional safety at all times. "Visionlining" of tractors was introduced by Minneapolis-Moline many years ago and is basically an exclusive MM feature which does much to ease the normal strain on any tractor operator and, thus assures better work and perhaps even more work under many conditions. STAMINA... the ability to "take it" for long periods of tough going... doesn't come as an accessory to tractors or farm machinery. You can't buy it as an EXTRA. It's either designed and built into every part of the machine or it isn't there at all. MM products are famous for stamina—year after year, owners report records of long, low-cost efficient service and the fact that MM products stay MODERN.

Tire Shortage Is Threatened

Lack of Textiles Reduces Civilian Output Say Manufacturers.

NEW YORK. — The day when civilian tires again will be available in normal supply may be carried further into next year because of an acute shortage of textile fabrics, the Rubber Manufacturers association, Inc., warns.

Some tire manufacturers already are threatened with curtailment of production for want of fabrics, the association said. Others, with only a small portion of their second quarter requirements assured, foresee shutdowns unless supplies of enameling duck, chafers, osnaburgs and sheeting are materially eased.

This means at least another season of close attention to all the wartime tire conservation practices including recapping, careful inflation and moderate driving speeds, particularly in the hot weather driving period just ahead, the report added.

Cuts Into Output.

With the automobile industry making heavier inroads into tire output for original equipment supplies, shutdowns resulting from textile shortages could easily defeat efforts of rubber manufacturers to achieve their goal of 66 million passenger car tires this year, the association said.

The warning came with the association's figures showing January production up over December by 913,467 units in passenger sizes, 241,446 units in truck and bus tire sizes and 680,911 units in all types of inner tubes.

January shipments of casings totaled 5,537,154, an increase of 28.86 per cent from December and compared with 3,630,757 produced in January last year. Passenger casings accounted for 4,380,997 or 27.25 per cent over December and compared with 1,953,946 a year previous. Truck and bus casings shipments of 1,156,157 showed an increase of 35.36 per cent over December and compared with 1,767,811 in January, 1945.

Passenger, truck and bus tube shipments in January totaled 4,286,947, an increase of 17.91 per cent over December and compared with 3,008,910 shipped in January, 1945.

Increase in Casings.

Casings produced during January totaled 5,972,790, an increase of 23.97 per cent over December and compared with 3,746,590 produced in January, 1945. Production included 4,705,092 passenger casings, an increase of 24.09 per cent over December and compared with 1,974,390 produced in January, 1945. Truck and bus casings produced during January totaled 1,267,698, an increase of 23.52 per cent over December and compared with 1,772,200 in January a year previous.

Passenger, truck and bus tubes produced during January rose to 4,639,762, an increase of 17.20 over December and compared with 3,348,935 produced in January, 1945.

Inventory of passenger, truck and bus casings at the end of January totaled 3,436,033, an increase of 14.43 per cent over December and compared with 2,013,251 for January, 1945.

Passenger casings inventories totaled 2,481,053, an increase of 15.32 per cent over December and compared with 1,156,414 a year previous.

Truck and bus casings inventories stood at 954,980, an increase of 12.20 per cent compared with December and 856,837 during January a year previous. Passenger truck and bus tubes inventories at the end of January totaled 4,120,673, an increase of 12.26 per cent compared with December and 2,974,924 at the end of January.

Smith Resigns; Armstrong Takes Position In Education Department

A resignation and announcement of the appointment of a new member of the faculty of West Texas State are among the news items issued from the office of President J. A. Hill this week.

Dr. Lloyd Smith has resigned his position in the Department of Education to become a member of the faculty at the Ball Teachers College at Terre Haute, Indiana. Dr. Smith had made a secure place for himself during the short time he had been a part of the organization at W. T., his service here having been interrupted by the war in which he served as an educational officer in the European theater.

Dr. Noble B. Armstrong, who is employed this summer in the Education Department of Texas State College for Women at Denton, with his wife visited the campus of West Texas State on Thursday and Friday, and he then accepted a position which President Hill offered him in the Department of Education.

Dr. Armstrong was graduated by the Central High School, Springfield, Missouri and was granted the A. B. and A. M. degrees by the University of Florida and the Doctor of Philosophy degree by George Peabody College at Nashville, Tenn. He also did graduate work at Duke University, Durham, N. C. His experience includes high school teaching at Daytona Beach, Florida, Lee High School, Columbus, Mississippi, Union University, Jackson, Tennessee, and supervisory experience at North Texas State Teachers College, Denton.

During the war, Dr. Armstrong served three years as a field director for the American Red Cross, military welfare service. One year of this time was spent in the European theater where he served with the 69th Infantry division in combat duty.

Heads of departments and presidents under whom Dr. Armstrong has worked recommend him highly. One man writes, "In my opinion he is especially well prepared in the fields of psychology, methods and guidance." Dr. Armstrong himself writes, "One of the principal motives which prompted me to leave the classroom and serve with a combat organization overseas was to revitalize my whole outlook on life in general and education in particular. I can assure you that my thinking has been revolutionized."

Besides his wife, Dr. Armstrong will bring to the college community two daughters and a son ranging in ages from four to twelve. He will begin his new duties with the opening of the fall semester, September 17.

Amarillo Field Expresses Thanks to Local Red Cross

Mrs. Hattie Briggs, Home Service Secretary for the Randall County Chapter of American Red Cross, received the following letter from Amarillo Army Air Field Hospital Unit, in appreciation for the cookies which this chapter sent.

Dear Mrs. Briggs:

While I realize many days have passed since June 20, we are none the less grateful of the generous contribution of cookies which your chapter sent us at that time. Nothing affords greater pleasure to the men here in the hospital than the cookie jar which we put out when such gifts as these are received.

Will you please express to all those who contributed the appreciation and thanks of the patients, who thoroughly enjoyed them? If the contributors could see the faces of the men as they happily lunch away on the cookies they would more than feel their efforts justified. Please thank them all in behalf of the men and the Red Cross staff.

Sincerely yours,
Goldie Holwerk,

SECRECY PREVAILS

Ships Regrouped for Second Atomic Test

By WALTER A. SHEAD
WNU Correspondent

HONOLULU, OPERATIONS CROSSROADS — With much attendant secrecy the target fleet in Bikini lagoon has been regrouped for the second atom bomb test scheduled for July 25. Although most of the correspondents have returned to the States, several made application to remain in Bikini during the interim so they could cover the arrangements being made for the second test. This request was refused by the navy, however, and all newspaper men were ordered to proceed to Kwajalein, where they were either transported immediately by air to the States or to Honolulu, or were housed aboard the press ship Appalachian.

In the meantime the Appalachian made a leisurely trip to Pearl Harbor where she underwent some minor repairs, and now is proceeding back to Bikini, where she is scheduled to arrive on B-Day minus 1, or July 24.

Nearest Center.

It has been announced that ships nearest the bulls-eye of the second test will include the battleship Arkansas, the heavy cruiser Pensacola, the Jap battleship Nagato, the aircraft carrier Saratoga, the destroyer Mayrant, the submarine Pilotfish, the transport Fallow and a tank landing ship.

It may be that the Pilotfish will be nearest the bomb burst, which, as has been announced, will be an underwater detonation. Other ships of the target fleet have been placed in various positions ranging up to 1,800 yards away from the blast.

The Arkansas, the Pensacola and the Nagato all were severely damaged as to superstructure in the first blast. The Pensacola particularly suffered heavy damage to her fire control; her stacks were blown off and her deck plates buckled. This correspondent went aboard the Pensacola after the first test and noted that her decks amidship were driven downward about 12 inches and with such force that steel supports beneath were driven through the steel deck plating like toothpicks through paper.

Await Report.

There is considerable speculation as to the coming report of the Military Evaluation board as to the efficacy of the atom bomb as an offensive weapon in naval warfare. If the board decides that future naval construction must meet the dangers of atomic blasts, then we may expect an entirely different warship of the future.

The experience of the first blast indicates that firepower exposed upon high superstructure is particularly susceptible to the heat and blast of atomic power. The speculation is that to meet this threat, future construction will see streamlined warships with low superstructures, enclosed as much as possible, looking something like a modern diesel locomotive with curved surfaces to deflect blast.

Installation of ventilation systems also will be given close scrutiny since it was learned that the blast in some cases, particularly aboard the Pensacola, entered the ventilation openings and followed the ducts below decks, breaking out at the weakest points, shoving through a bulkhead and smashing other obstacles in its way deep in the ship.

This was particularly noticeable in a comparison with the German ship Prinz Eugen, which has no ventilation system and depends upon row upon row of portholes for ventilation for its crew. Not a porthole was smashed and no damage done below deck, but she was admittedly much farther from the center of the blast than the Pensacola.

In reflecting upon the damage done to the ships in the first blast, the remarkable thing to this writer is that not a single live mine, bomb, shell, bag of powder or any other ammunition aboard any ship was exploded either by the heat or blast force of the bomb. Torpedoes on the Independence exploded due to a fire which finally exploded her powder magazine and her aviation gasoline. But on most of the ships were placed live mines, bombs, shells were in guns or on loading apparatus, and each ship had a full load of ammunition. None of it was exploded and the safety crews which boarded the ships following the blast were careful in their examination.

Then the speculation goes to the use of lead lining against X-rays, rock wool or some other protection against heat, and concrete or some substitute against neutrons and other radioactivity.

Opinions Vary.

There are two schools of thought as to the damage likely to occur to ship hulls from the underwater blast. Having in mind the fact that depth charges of presently used explosives have sunk or damaged submarines and heavily damaged destroyers and other lighter craft, one school declares that the atomic bomb will play havoc with the target fleet and predicts that even capital ships closest to the blast will be capsized and sunk.

Others, however, predict that much of the force of the blast will be absorbed by the water and that, although there is danger of light ships capsizing, the larger ships will merely roll with the water and their heavier underwater armor will not be damaged. They predict the heavily armored ships will not suffer as much underwater damage as could be inflicted with a torpedo. This is all in the realm of speculation, however, and the navy remains mum about its own expectations.

In discussions aboard the Appalachian among scientists and off-the-record comment by naval officers, there is some reason to presume that the atomic bomb as an offensive weapon against ships at sea is not as effective as other weapons. However, its effectiveness against naval bases would be devastating and a fleet without naval bases would be rendered impotent.

Atoll to Remain.

This writer believes that Bikini atoll and its coconut groves will be there after the second test is over and even after the third bomb scheduled for November or later is detonated in hundreds of fathoms of water in the ocean outside Bikini lagoon. We do not expect any 100-foot waves nor 1,000-mile-an-hour wind although some wave may wash over the island. A 15-foot wave could do that.

But the test which has changed from a joint army-navy operation, about which so much stress was put, into strictly a navy show and which is probably costing about a half million dollars a day, likely will give our military men all the knowledge they will need to prepare for or against the atomic bomb in the future . . . if indeed there is any way of preparing against it.

Rats Born in Defiance of Atomic Death

Despite deaths from radioactivity among animals aboard target ships in the Bikini atomic bomb test, the animal population remains almost stationary, reports from the USS Burleson, animal ship of Joint Task Force 1, reveal.

To offset the deaths from radioactivity, a litter of white rats was born aboard the USS Pennsylvania and the new arrivals were unaffected by the bomb. Originally there were 150 goats, 150 pigs and 3,100 white rats placed aboard 22 ships of the target fleet. Deaths from radioactivity are continuing, according to reports from the Burleson. Loss of life among the animals already has exceeded the 10 per cent figure originally announced.

The little pig, found swimming vigorously toward land after sinking of the Sakawa, is presumed still alive.

Discard old rags, rugs and papers. They are fire hazards.

Bufs Down Memphis Nine 5-3

Before a crowd of several hundred people, the Buffaloes stayed in the win column by defeating the Memphis nine 5 to 3 at Memphis Sunday.

Metz La Follette turned in a great pitching performance by limiting Memphis to two hits, while his team-mates collected seven hits to push across five runs.

It was a close ball game all the way. The Buffs scored one run in the second when Box walked and stole second. Trimble grounded out and Box went to third. Jacobs, the next man up, hit a long fly ball to deep center field and Box scored. In the third, Ford doubled and Sarge bunted and reached first safely. Brookfield drove one into center field allowing Ford to score. La Follette grounded out and Emler reached first on an error and Box tripped to bring in two more runs for the buff.

Memphis scored all three of their runs in the third inning. The first man got to first on an error. The next man also reached first when he was hit by the pitcher. Coppage lined one into deep right center field allowing one run to score. The other two runs were scored on an error.

Former passing ace for the Buffs, Foster Watkins, played for the Memphis nine.
